Greenball Rolling in to 2017 SEMA Show with All-New Tire Models

Anaheim, Calif. - October 26, 2017 - Greenball Corporation is returning to SEMA Show this year with a newly expanded lineup of tires and wheels for a wide range of vehicles, from light trucks, specialty trailer tires, ATVs & UTVs and more.

Greenball's light truck brands are both expanding their size offerings for select models. On display at the Greenball booth will be two new sizes of Kanati's Mud Hog M/T tire, with five more sizes coming soon. The Centennial brand, officially launched at last year's SEMA Show, has ten new size offerings for the Dirt Commander M/T model on the way as well.

Kanati's Mud Hog M/T is being expanded to 32 total sizes and the Dirt Commander M/T has 10 new sizes on the way.

The Transmaster EV is a all new economy line of radial special trailer tires. The Tow-Master is now available with heavy-duty aluminum wheels

For the specialty trailer owners out there, the popular Tow-Master All-Steel Construction is now available with new heavy-duty aluminum wheels to help accommodate larger loads. Transmaster is also launching the Transmaster EV, an economy line of radial special trailer tires offered in 13 sizes.

GBC Motorsports, Greenball's powersports division, continues to forge ahead as a pioneer in the ATV & UTV tire market, introducing two all-new models in the Mini Master and the Kanati Terra Commander. Based on GBC's successful XC-Master tire, the Mini Master provides a new choice for youth ATV cross country and ATV motocross racers. The Kanati Terra Master represents yet another breakthrough in UTV tire design with its asymmetrical, non-directional tread pattern that offers two unique mounting options to suit the vehicle and terrain.
